Our Heroes

We stand to-day with heads uncovered as we lay a wreath upon each mound beneath whose verdant cover lies the bones of a fallen hero. The banner they loved and fought for floats above their last resting-place. Sweetest flowers of springtime, woven into garlands or grouped into pleasing clusters, we bring as a tribute to their memory.

As we scatter these bright blooms above the fallen ones, and think of their deeds of valor, our hearts beat in sympathy with those who knew and loved them before the great clouds of conflict hovered over our beloved Southland. Happy homes were rent asunder; loving hearts were bowed down with the load of grief; familiar footsteps were heard no more—the sacrifice was made, and the South's battlefields were sprinkled with the blood of her noble sons.

As we thus honor the fallen, we turn our eyes toward the sunlit slopes and behold the thin grey lines of the last remnant of those who proudly wore the grey, approaching the capital of the Confederacy, where, on the morrow, they will mix and mingle with their comrades of the camp and live again in song and story those trying days of the sixties.

Here's a glad welcome for the veterans and a hearty greeting to them all. As one, we shall all unite to do them honor, to brighten their visit with a smile and cheer their hearts with our unstinted hospitality, so that when lengthening shadows fall behind them along their pathway, nobly trod, they may turn their hearts again toward Richmond, and the remembrance of our love and tender care of them be the glad sweet twilight of life's eventide, just before they receive their crown of victory.

ONLY THREE SEEM LIKELY TO MAKE RUN FOR BOARD

Beck, Folkes and Gunst Promise to Wage Triangular Contest.

MUST QUALIFY BY THURSDAY

Four Days Remain for Candidates to Comply With Primary Law as to Paying of Fee and Filing Formal Declaration.

With less than four days remaining in which candidates for election to the Administrative Board may qualify for the race, it appears now that when the lists are closed on Thursday, there will be only three competitors for the two seats on the board, that will be vacant on January 1, 1916, and that the three candidates will be Henry P. Beck and Euben C. Folkes, the incumbents, and Alderman Marx Gunst, of Lee Ward.

While these three are definitely in the race, none of them has as yet qualified for participation in accordance with the provisions of the new primary law. This act requires that before a candidate's name shall be placed on the official ballot he shall pay a candidacy fee of 2 per cent of one year's salary attached to the office to which he aspires, and file a properly attested declaration of candidacy with the chairman of the party committee in the case of the candidates for the Administrative Board.

NO PAYMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE TO TREASURER

The first step in the direction of qualification is the payment of the fee of $100—2 per cent of the $5,000 Administrative Board salary—to City Treasurer Pace. The latter said, yesterday, that no such payment has as yet been made by any of the three acknowledged candidates.

Under the law the payment must be made sixty days before the primary, which this year is on August 3. This would make 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon the final limit for paying in the case of the candidates for the Administrative Board. Under a special ordinance that became law with the Mayor's signature last week, however, Thursday is made a municipal holiday. In the absence of an official ruling on the point it is assumed that this will have the effect of deferring the final limit until 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

In the first Administrative Board primary it was held that notice of candidacy could be filed with the city Democratic Committee up to midnight of the final day. The latter action probably would avoid possible complications by complying with both the fee and registration requirements before Thursday, since the effect of the Council's declaring Thursday a holiday, as far as it applies to the State primary law, appears to be that the final limit may possibly have the effect of making Wednesday the final limit.

PETITIONS FOR ALL THREE ARE IN CIRCULATION

The primary law provides that the name of no candidate for city or county office shall be printed on the official ballot unless he shall have filed along with his declaration of candidacy a petition therefor signed by fully qualified voters.

Petitions of this character containing several times the required number of names, have already been signed up on behalf of Mr. Beck, Mr. Folkes and Mr. Gunst. Friends of the latter exhibited last week petitions for his candidacy containing 300 names, all properly witnessed as required by the primary act.

Although rumors were rife several weeks ago that the expiration of the qualification time limit would shut out several other candidates for the board in the field, they have failed of substantiation. Wilbur J. Griggs, whose candidacy was urged by a substantial following, announced last week that he would not run.

A delegation of citizens called recently on Councilman P. P. Pilcher with the suggestion that he enter the race. Mr. Pilcher is serving his first term in the Council as a member from Clay Ward. He informed The Times-Dispatch last night that he has definitely decided not to enter the race.

"My acquaintance is not extensive enough to justify it," said Mr. Pilcher, "and there seems to be no large demand for another candidate than the three already announced. I consider it a compliment that I should have been mentioned in this connection, but I do not see my way clear to run."

LIST APPARENTLY
LIMITED TO THREE NAMES

With the lists apparently closed, students of local politics are already figuring out the chances of success that the three may expect. As a general political axiom, it is assumed that the advantage lies with the two candidates who are new members of the board. Such an assumption, however, is shown to be fallacious frequently enough to prove that like all rules, it has exceptions.

Friends of Mr. Gunst point out that a restricted field of three candidates increases the chances of his success. The situation will operate to throw to Mr. Gunst the votes which for one reason or another either of the two incumbents have, in the course of their tenure, alienated, since the law requires every ballot to contain as many names as there are vacancies to be filled.

Aside from this mechanical advantage, supporters of the Lee Ward candidate point to his long and efficient record in the Council as an indication of what may be expected from him if he is elected to the board. He has taken a leading part in furthering appropriations for street improvements and in other ways forwarding the material progress of the city.

Mr. Folkes led the ticket at the first Administrative Board election, and has a large and influential political following. Mr. Beck, who made his place in the first election, largely because of his record for efficiency in the Building Inspector's Office, is affiliated with no particular political division, and relies for his election upon practically the same elements that won for him in 1912.

Cutting Affray.

Policeman Jacobson yesterday arrested Percy Hinton, colored, on a charge of assaulting Susie Hinton with a razor. A short time after, the officer placed George Platter, colored, under arrest on a charge of assaulting Percy Hinton with an axe. Hinton is alleged to have attacked the woman and Platter to have come to her defense. The case will be heard before Justice Crutchfield this morning.

OLIVER DIES AS RESULT OF AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Struck in Back by Electric Limousine
Driven by Miss Kate S.
Trautman.

ACCIDENT DUE TO JITNEY BUS

Witnesses Say It "Sidewiped"
Miss Trautman's Electric Car, Causing Her to Lose Control of Steering Gear.

Following the death of James Floyd Oliver—the man who suffered a fractured skull Saturday afternoon when struck by the electric limousine of Miss Kate S. Trautman, 1016 Park Avenue—at the Virginia Hospital yesterday afternoon, the young woman was rearrested by Detective Sergeant Wiltshire and Policeman Akers on a warrant charging her with involuntary manslaughter in inflicting the injuries with her machine, from which Oliver died. Miss Trautman was bailed to the sum of $1,300 by her uncle, S. W. Fleischman, for her appearance in the Police Court on June 4.

Oliver was operated on shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning by Dr. J. W. Henson at the Virginia Hospital. It was not until several hours after he had been taken to the hospital that surgeons were able to determine that his skull had been fractured, but the operation was performed as soon as it was found necessary. A large portion of the man's skull was removed so as to allow the surgeon to reach the brain which had formed over the brain.

INJURED MAN DID NOT RALLY FROM OPERATION

The injured man had lapsed into unconsciousness a short time before being placed on the operating table, and said not to have regained consciousness after the operation. His condition was deemed critical by the surgeons as soon as it was discovered that the skull had been fractured. Oliver's condition grew steadily worse following his removal from the operating table. It was thought at one time, however, that he might perhaps rally, but his strength again failed, and he died at 1:30 o'clock.

Oliver was sworn out for Miss Trautman as soon as the police had been informed of the death of the injured man, and the formalities of the arrest were gone through with. It is deemed a technical charge by the police that it is probable that the coroner's jury will absolve Miss Trautman of blame for the accident, and that the charge against her will be dismissed in the Police Court.

WITH BACK TO STREET

The shock of the contact was sufficient to throw the young woman and off the steering lever, it is claimed, and for a time the limousine was without guidance. The car was hurled toward the sidewalk with such violence that the two right-hand wheels mounted the curb. It was then that Oliver is said to have been struck. The man was standing with his back to the street, and the car is said to have struck him squarely in the center of his back. He was knocked forward, his head striking the pavement.

Ambulance Surgeon Gorman hurried him to the Virginia Hospital, although the injured man manifested no signs of serious injury at that time. He became unconscious in about two hours after reaching the institution.

Coroner Taylor will hold an inquest into the death of Oliver in his office at the city hall at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. All of the witnesses have been summoned, including Miss Trautman. The efforts of the police to locate the jitney which struck the young woman's electric had been fruitless up to last night. It is said that charges will be preferred against the driver should he be located.

Oliver, who was a single man, was thirty-six years of age. He was a blacksmith by occupation, and made his home at Rio Vista, Va. The man is survived by his mother and father, two brothers and two sisters. The funeral will be conducted from Ridge Baptist Church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Burial will be in the church cemetery, Undertaker A. W. Bennett having charge of the arrangements.

Find Young White Baby.

C. R. Miller, 303 East Clay Street, reported to the police of the Second Station yesterday that he had found a month-old white girl baby on the door step of a Mr. Johnson, living on the City Street, just beyond the Belt Line, at 10:30 o'clock on Saturday night. Miller stated that he had taken charge of the baby and that he desired to adopt it.

Moose Initiation.

At the regular meeting of Richmond Lodge No. 330, Local Order of Moose, to be held to-night at the Mechanics' Institute, Twelfth and Broad Streets, at 8 o'clock, a class of over 100 new members will be initiated. At the initiation exercises all the members will proceed in a body to the new home at Fourth and Broad Streets, which has been tastefully furnished.

EXPLORE THE UNKNOWN,
ADVISE TO GRADUATES

But Have Right Attitude to Almighty,
Dr. T. A. Smoot Cautions
in Sermon.

BACCALAUREATE AT CENTENARY

Students of Medical College Occupy
Special Tiers of Seats—Dr. Cary T.
Grayson Addresses Alumni Society
To-Night.

"We are dying every day sooner than we ought because we do not know the laws of God, and the great quest of you men is not only to gather what is known, but to push out into the unknown," said Rev. T. A. Smoot, D. D., pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church, last night in preaching the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Medical College of Virginia. The subject of the sermon was "The Value and the Inspiration of the Unknown."

"As you try to pursue the thoughts of the Almighty," he continued, "as you go out into the world, what shall be your attitude toward the Almighty? I would have you consider Him as the great unknown, but with the concept of the unknown as a person to soothe your heart when it aches—and it will ache—to steady your hand when it is confused—and it will be confused—to hold Him as your personal friend. Be true to the yearning of your heart after the Almighty."

Dr. Smoot took as his text the words, "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God; how great is the sum of them!"

"It does not make any difference," he said, "where these words were from, where would be true no matter where they were from. They might have been from the 135th Psalm. They were written by David, but they would have been just as true if they had been written by someone else."

EMPHASIZES IMPORTANCE OF MEDICAL CALLING

Dr. Smoot emphasized the importance of the calling of the young professional men before him. The distinction between sacred calling and the secular calling is not nearly so marked as it used to be, in the opinion of Dr. Smoot, as expressed last night. The calling of the ministry is as sacred as it ever was, he said, but it is clear that all callings in life have become more and more sacred as these following them have realized their importance to humanity and the world.

"The time when the conception of the religious life was a life in the desert has passed. It is in the throng, among the multitude, that men are to work out their salvation."

"Red blood and powerful muscles used to be connected with cruelty," said the speaker. "But it is different now. The saint is a man who can carry a heavy load and the Christian a man who can wield a sledgehammer."

The graduating students, wearing caps and gowns, occupied the front tiers of seats. At the conclusion of the service the congregation stood while the young graduates filed out. In opening his sermon, Dr. Smoot expressed the honor he felt in being invited to address the graduates, and said that it was a satisfaction to the whole church to have them there as the guests of the church.

The program for the remainder of the commencement of the college follows:

Meeting of the board of visitors this morning at 11 o'clock at the college; meeting of Alumni Society to-night at 8:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, with address by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, physician to the Police Station and asked for assistance, but gave no information as to whether he had been injured accidentally or had been assaulted. His condition was reported as uncertain at the hospital early this morning.

Fear Skull is Fractured.

L. F. Eubank, 725 Buchanan Street, was taken to the Virginia Hospital early yesterday morning suffering from what is feared to be a fractured skull. The man walked into the First Police Station and asked for assistance, but gave no information as to whether he had been injured accidentally or had been assaulted. His condition was reported as uncertain at the hospital early this morning.

ADVISES SECOND-MILE
QUALITY OF RELIGION

Jesus Lived That Kind, Says Rev. T. C. Skinner, D. D., in Sermon to New Graduates.

"Beyond the Curriculum" was the subject of the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Woman's College, preached last night at Grace Street Baptist Church by Rev. T. C. Skinner, D. D., pastor of the Second Baptist Church. The text was Matthew 4:1: "If a Man Can Impress Thee to Go With Him a Mile, Go With Him."

Dr. Skinner explained what the passage of scripture meant by saying that it implied a reference to the public impression that prevailed in the time of Jesus, when an imperial army marching through a country had the right to make requisition on able-bodied men and compel them to do such service as might be required.

The gist of Dr. Skinner's teaching was, said Dr. Skinner, that when you are faced to face with compulsory service, render it cheerfully and not with a hang-dog, slavish spirit. Jesus was the greatest exponent of his own teaching. His religion was always the second mile religion; that of the Levite and the priest represented the first-mile religion, being without spontaneity. The Pharisees were likewise religionists of the first mile, but Jesus insisted on a religion that exceeded the requirements.

The Woman's College commencement will close to-night with the delivery of the baccalaureate address by Rev. T. A. Smoot, D. D., pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, and the conferring of degrees. These exercises will take place at the Academy of Music.

Charged With Disorder.
S. H. Llewellyn was arrested by Policeman Waller yesterday on a charge of being drunk and disorderly at 208 North Allen Avenue. Complaint was made by persons living in the house, but the man left before the officer arrived. He was arrested on Grove Avenue. The case will be heard in the Police Court to-day.

HOLIDAYS WILL CUT INTO ACTIVITIES AT CITY HALL

Administrative Board Will Hold Only
Three Business Meetings
During Week.

EXPECT REPORT ON GAS LEASE

Pacifists Predict Administrators
Will Comply With Public Utilities
Committee Request, and That Appeal to Council Will Be Rescinded.

One general holiday, another municipal holiday, and the activities of the reunion will cut deeply, this week, into the routine work of the City Hall. The Administrative Board will hold only three business sessions, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. To-morrow the City Hall will observe Memorial Day, with a total suspension of business, and on Thursday official business will be confined to the indispensable operations of a few departments in accordance with the Council's act declaring that municipal holiday in honor of the reunion.

There will be only one regular committee meeting. The Committee on Public Buildings, Properties and Utilities will meet at 8 o'clock to-morrow night for the consideration of its regular report. It is expected that at this time the Electric Corporation's application for a lease of the Gas Works.

BELIEVE COMMITTEE WILL RECONSIDER APPEAL

Although the committee at its last meeting adopted a tart resolution reporting to the Council the failure of the Administrative Board to comply with the committee's express request that it file with it at that meeting a detailed report of its findings in the gas lease matter, and virtually asking the Council to assist the committee in urging the board to comply with the committee's request, it seems probable now that the resolution will not be reported. The committee has been at work since the resolution was passed, and their efforts have been in the direction of restoring the entente cordiale between the Council and the board, placed in jeopardy by the committee's appeal to the legislative body. No effort was made to introduce the resolution in the Common Council when it met in special session last Monday night, and it appears likely that the committee will reconsider the vote by which the resolution was passed and rescind its rebuke.

BOARD EXPECTED TO FILE FULL REPORT

From the same pacific sources comes the unofficial assurance that the board will to-morrow night, or at the furthest, on the next following night, meet, file a complete statement of its position with reference to the gas lease, accompanied by the detailed data which led it to recommend the summary rejection of the leasing offer.

There will be two special Council committee meetings. The ordinance subcommittee in charge of jitney bus legislation will meet at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon to put the finishing touches on the ordinance designed to regulate jitney bus traffic in this city, and the full ordinance committee will meet at 8 o'clock the same night to receive the subcommittee's report. The evening meeting will be open to the public, and persons interested in the measure will be given an opportunity to be heard.

TEMPERANCE CELEBRATION

Woman's Christian Temperance Union to Meet at Woodland Heights.

The Henrico and Hanover Bi-County Woman's Christian Temperance Union Convention will meet in the Baptist Church of Woodland Heights on Wednesday. The convention will be the guests of Woodland Heights local union, of which Mrs. D. E. Wilson is the president. An entertainment program has been arranged and includes music by a specially trained chorus choir, which will sing popular temperance songs, including "A Saltonian Nation in 1920." The visiting orator will be Mrs. Helen Hewitt Green, of Norfolk, who is one of the W. C. T. U. lecturers and organizer, and a well-known woman journalist.

On June 8 East End local union will have an anniversary celebration at the home of the president, Mrs. W. M. Bickers, who is also the bi-county president. In connection with this celebration a reception will be tendered Mrs. Green, who comes here for a week's service in connection with the W. C. T. U. work. She will make several public addresses.

ACADEMY COMMENCEMENT

Exercises Take Place On Tuesday Evening at Richmond College.

The annual commencement exercises of Richmond Academy will be held on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Richmond College chapel.

A list of the graduating class and its officers is as follows: Harry Douglas Riden, president; Coleman Morrison Whitlock, vice-president; Robert Whittier, Jr., secretary-treasurer; Osborne Orlando Ashworth, historian; Hinton Clay Hinton, Beauford Selman Ragland and William Emory Trainham.

W. H. Lowery and R. F. Yelton, proprietors of cigar and soda-water stores, were arrested yesterday by Policemen Dunn and Clarke on charges of keeping their places of business open on Sunday. The men will be arraigned in the Police Court to-day.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES
AT UNION UNIVERSITY

Colored Educational Institution Will Issue Diplomas in Theological and Academic Departments.

Commencement week at the Virginia Union University began yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating classes of the three departments, viz., College, Theological and Academic.

The exercises were conducted in the following order:

1. Invocation, by Dr. George W. Bigger, president Harbison Memorial College, Hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy."

2. Scriptural lesson, tenth chapter of St. Matthew, by Rev. W. B. F. McWilliams, Toledo, O., class 1900.

3. Prayer, by Rev. H. B. Simpson, Virginia Union University.

4. Selection, mixed quartet.

5. Introduction of speaker, by Dr. George Rice Hovey, president Virginia Union University.

6. Baccalaureate sermon, by Rev. W. B. F. McWilliams, Toledo, O., class 1900.

7. Hymn, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War."

8. Benediction, by Rev. William N. Morton, Bridgeton, Conn., class '92.

Dr. McWilliams' text was taken from the Acts of the Apostles, eleventh chapter, twenty-sixth verse, "And the disciples were called Christians for the first time at Antioch." His subject was "Christianity and the Individual."

He defined a Christian as one, first, who gives assent to the Christhood of Jesus and all His claims; secondly, one who gives assent to the Lordship of Jesus and all His claims. He also stated, in part, that the individual Christian must stand prepared for the continuous conflict inaugurated in the Garden of Eden over 6,000 years ago.

BOY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

G. W. Heath Strikes Harry Azinsky on West Broad Street.

An automobile driven by G. W. Heath struck Harry Azinsky, a small boy, before the house at 222 West Broad Street yesterday, throwing the boy to the sidewalk and inflicting several cuts and bruises about the head and body. Heath was arrested by Policemen Brennan and Howell on a charge of recklessly driving his machine through the streets.

"According to the police report, Heath was turning his car in Broad Street, when it skidded against a bicycle, on which Azinsky was seated, and which was standing at the curb. The boy was treated by Dr. Hertzberg.

CHOSE NAVY AIDES AND A SPONSORIAL STAFF

Confederate's Sea-Fighters Will Receive Due Attention During Reunion Week.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of Richmond men interested in seeing that the Confederate Navy is well represented in the reunion this week, naval aides to Commodore A. O. Wright and a sponsorial staff were named. The meeting was held at the Jefferson Hotel, and was marked by considerable enthusiasm.

Miss Doris Jones, of Richmond, was named as the sponsor for the naval veterans. To serve as the matron of honor, Mrs. J. T. W. Curtin, of Richmond, was designated. Miss Dorothy Hickey, daughter of Hampton Miss Frances Kennedy, of Richmond, and Miss Mary Curtis, of Richmond, were named as maids of honor.

Captain Danby M. Scales will be chief of staff to Commodore Wright, according to the choice made at the meeting at the Jefferson yesterday, and he has appointed the following as naval aides: Henry Elliott, J. Singleton Walker, T. Garnett Tabb, Dr. W. W. Davis, C. W. Morris, J. T. W. Curtin, Edwin H. Courtney, John P. McGuire, Murray M. McGuire and Charles Evelyn Smith.

The naval contingent is planning to make a good showing in the parade on Thursday. It will be decorated in the naval insignia, and as Commodore Wright expresses it, "the navy will be out on the map."

The full naval party and all the members of the sponsorial staff, together with many friends and admirers of the naval insignia, will be in the lobby at the Jefferson yesterday for a grand reception, which is expected to prove one of the most unique of the many social events of the reunion week. The hours will be from 8 to 10. Wednesday night at the Jefferson the naval veterans will have a smoker and spin some sea yarns.

"And don't forget to say," added Commodore Wright, in telling of the arrangements for the naval side of the reunion, "that our cabin, ward-room and staterooms will be in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A., Seventh and Grace Streets, during the reunion."

Automobile and Car Collide.
A Broad and Twenty-fifth Street car collided with the automobile of J. E. Epps, 320 North Twenty-seventh Street, near Lombardy and Broad Streets yesterday morning, doing $30
